It seems to me that the case against Microsoft has gone on long enough and that it would in the nation's best interest to finalize the settlement.

With everything that is going on in the world, why don't we free up the bright minds of our country to focus on improving all of our lives as I feel Microsoft has done and continues to do. If the competitors of Microsoft spent as much time and money on their ideas and products as they are spending on this long, drawn-out litigation, they would probably be more successful in the business world.
